

Roxy Needs A Home!

Can you help?

Roxy is a super-friendly, gentle 2 year old, Australian Cattle Dog who is desperately looking for a home to call her own. She's been looking for a home for 15 months ...

More than half her life has been in limbo with no family to call her own!

Roxy is currently living in a foster situation with 3 other dogs. She has been learning to trust them and gets along well with them though she does seem to be frightened of strange dogs (who isn't?) and needs to be introduced appropriately. She is great with caged birds and absolutely WONDERFUL with people.

Roxy has something going for her that is different than other dogs ... you see, Roxy is deaf. Please don't let that scare you away because training deaf dogs is not that much different than training dogs who can hear.

Roxy is looking for a forever home ... one that doesn't surrender her when the going gets tough. I know her home is out there, we just haven't found it yet.

Can I come live with you? I would like to love you forever if you would just give me the chance! They don't call us "Velcro Dogs" for nothing!

Australian Cattle Dogs (ACD's) are sometimes called "Velcro Dogs" because they are very loyal and want to stay close to their people. ACD's will follow their owners everywhere.

The ACD is a versatile breed that is able to do many types of activities including herding, obedience, agility, fly-ball ... even hanging out and snoozing with you out on the deck on a Sunday afternoon!

Can you offer Roxy the home she's been lacking?
